Outside play is a highlight of our preschool program. When the weather turns cooler, please remember to put a coat, hat and gloves on your child. When weather permits, we go outside daily and play on the playground. We are fortunate to have an elaborate playground with slides, and climbing equipment and multiple tricycles and riding toys.

CAELC Giving Tree

Feed Our Pig Feed Our Kids

Blessings in a Backpack has 50 Pigs at various businesses and schools.

We will have a Pig set up during Parent/Teacher Conferences. Please make a donation to help feed our children on weekends. Our school has 37 children with food insecurity and we would like to help them on the weekends. It costs $80.00 a school year per child for this program.

Mrs. Schultze's Corner

Children learn through play! Playing with your child is a great way to teach many skills as well as giving your child undivided attention and opportunities to increase vocabulary and concepts. There are developmental stages of play that eventually lead to storytelling and writing stories. Most children naturally learn how to play with toys and interact with others as they play. These skills do not come naturally for many children with special needs. Some children with special needs may need to be taught how to play and take turns. You may have to show your child how to build Lego towers or play with a baby doll. Hasbro and the Autism Project have teamed up to make suggestion for all levels of play. There are many great ideas on this site. You can visit the Toy Box Tools website at: <http://toyboxtools.hasbro.com/>.
